GOLD AND SILVER.

Some Curious Stories of Lucky Finds of Precious Metal.

From the Omaha Republican.

That rich mines are often discovered by accident, history, both ancient and modern, verifies. Numerous instances have come under my own observation. This is said to be luck, but it matters not whether it is luck or science, so long as the "find" is a good one. In such cases it would seem that it is even better to be born lucky than industrious. Only last spring a prospector not twenty miles from here, after hunting many days for a quartz ledge, tired in his search, and threw down his pick and shovel in disgust, and took up his rifle, and sauntered forth for game. Fortune favored him; his luck came suddenly to him, as it were. He shot a deer, which in its death struggle fell over the rocks and rolled down the mountain side. When the hunter reached his game he found it lying on the outcrop of a huge galena ledge, which he soon after sold for a good round sum—figures not stated.

In the early days of California a poor prospector, sadly out of luck, was returning to his camp after night, when he was assailed by a vicious dog. Having no weapon to stand off his enemy, he felt around in the dark and laid hold of the first thing he could catch, which was a hefty rock. The dog had sloped, of course, and the man kept the stone in his hand until he was safe in his own cabin. In the morning he saw something bright on the inside of the rock, and on closer examination he found that the rock was full of gold. He returned and found the ledge from which the quartz boulder had floated, sold it for a large amount of money, returned to the States, bought a farm, married, and raised a large family of children.

About four years ago a poor but industrious prospector in this country had the misfortune (or good fortune) to lose his horse. It was an old bay horse, and, like his master, was a wandering prospector, only that he prospected for grass, while the master prospected for quartz. This particular day the old bay wandered further than he was wont to do, probably because the bunch grass was few and far between. At any rate, the prospector desired to move camp, but could not do so without the assistance of his bay companion. He must needs find him. He was at last successful, and while returning with the truant he noticed the head of a mountain ram sticking in the rocks. Stopping to examine it, he saw rich-looking quartz scattered about, and following it up he hit upon what is now the noted Ramshorn Mine—the longest and richest silver ledge that we know of. The district was named Bay Horse, as it should have been, and is the richest silver district in the Salmon River country.

I knew a man once who followed mining and prospecting for a period of forty years. He had been all through California, Colorado and Montana, and had prospected twenty-five years in Georgia before coming West. He was not much on digging deep holes, but he would go around hunting for shallow diggings so long as the boys would "stake" him. He was getting worn out prospecting out of luck, and when, on the 24th day of July, 1864, he camped on a tributary of Prickly Pear creek, in northern Montana, he said to his three companions: "Let's sink a hole on this bar; it's the last chance; if we can't find it here, I don't know where next to prospect." The younger members of the party put the hole to bed rock, the diggings were named Last Chance, and two years later the old man threw away his tool, and went home to Georgia with a joyful heart and $100,000 in clean gold dust, but not until he had seen the city of Helena, the metropolis of Montana, spring up about him.

Only last August a prospector in the Lower Wood River country met with an unexpected streak of luck that astonished him. While on his way across from Bellvue to Croy Canyon the pack on the horse he was leading became loose, and in order to adjust it he dismounted. While rearranging it he saw something at his feet that resembled rich silver "float." He traced it up to the ledge, which was only a short distance away, and found that he had one of the best "prospects" on Wood river. He located the original, and two extensions, and the best ore in the vein assays up in the thousands. Recently he sold out for a snug little fortune.

On a mountain trail in California there used to be a big boulder which furnished a favorite resting-place for tired footmen. Thousands of men had sat on that stone and rested their weary limbs. In fact, it was of so peculiar shape that it seemed to fit every one who tried it. With long usage it had worn as smooth as ivory, and greasy with frequent contact with miners' clothing. One day an old prospector squatted himself upon this favorite resting stone, and while getting his wind he carelessly and unconsciously peeked away at the boulder with his pick. A piece of rock flew off, and revealed to him the surprising truth that he was sitting on a rich chunk of quartz. He at once proceeded up the hill and found the ledge, and it was full of gold and brought him much wealth.

We are told that once upon a time a young man left the home of his childhood, bade farewell to his weeping mother, kissed away the tears of his little sweetheart, and went out into the wilds of the West to become a miner. The tradition goes that at length he struck a mining camp, and, being inexperienced, he sighted a veteran for advice as to the best place to dig. Seeing his visitor was a "tenderfoot" dressed in store clothes, the old man, in the kindness of his big heart, answered: "Young man, go up on the hillside, in the shade of yonder green tree, and dig, and fortune will smile." The youth did not "tumble" to the sarcasm of the man of experience, but went forth with joy to the shade of the great tree as directed, dug, and found a fortune in less than an hour. But this is a lie—every word of it. I have heard the same old story as having happened in the lead mines of Wisconsin, in the gold mines of California, Montana, Colorado, the Black Hills and Nevada, and now I am only waiting to have some fellow spin it to me and locate the scene in Idaho, and forbearance will there and then cease.

SCRIBNER FOR MARCH.

Scriner for March has a number of interesting points. The second part of Mrs. Barrett's piquant novelette, "A Fair Barbarian," will be eagerly read by those who have read the first part, and will be found even more interesting. "Ericsson's Destroyer," and her New Gun," is the subject of a paper by Mr. Charles Barnard. In "Musical Possibilities of America," Mr. Theodore Thomas writes practically of vocal and instrumental culture, church and theater music, bad and good methods of teaching, and of American violins. Never before engraved portraits of Charles and Mary Lamb, from old paintings, embellish a short paper of Mr. John Arbuckle. "In London with Dickens" is a chronicle of the localities of Boz, including Mr. Tullington's house, Limehouse Hole, Jenny Wren's house, the Inns of Court, etc. There is an illustrated article on "John Singleton Copley," by his granddaughter, Mrs. Armory, presenting engravings of "The Boy and the Flying Squirrel," the "Boy Rescued from a Shark," "Lady Wentworth," and other illustrations. Still further variety is given to the number by a second paper of "Recollections of American Society," by Mrs. S. W. Oakley; an illustrated paper on "Striped Bass," by Mr. Francis Endicott; an account of "Protestantism in Italy," by Rev. Washington Gladden; more "Notes of a Walker," including discussion of Shakespeare's natural history, by John Burroughs; "A Dangerous Virtue," a striking short story, by Mr. H. H. Boyesen; the fifth part of Mr. Schuyler's "Peter the Great as Ruler and Reformer," and the concluding paper of "Glimpses of Parisian Art." Among the poems there is a sonnet ("Two Homes") by Dr. Holland, who, in "Topics of the Time," writes of "Geo. Eliot" and "The Metropolitan Museum," and takes note of Bishop Coxe's exception to part of a recent paper in Scriner on the Bible Society. "Home and Society," treats of "A Mother's duty to her Girls," "A New Cooking Stove," and "Servant's Rooms and Quarters." The book notices are by specialists, as is the aim of the magazine; and this month they have much variety and suggestiveness, a review of "Endymion" being especially interesting. "The World's Work" deals with "Artificial Ballast," "Power for Pleasure Boats," "Optical Tests for Milk," etc., and "Bric-a-Brac" has humor and pleasantry of its own well-established kind.

THE SCHOOL TAX.

The School Trustees of this district were entirely right in holding the late election to settle the question of levying a special tax. In doing as they did, they were acting under the advice of the District Attorney, to whom alone they have to look for legal guidance. It is true that the County Commissioners have power to increase the tax levy for the year sufficiently to provide the needed funds for the support of the schools. But by holding the election, the Trustees were enabled to get the consent of a large majority of the tax-payers to the proposed levy—an important point. And, besides, they are warranted by the result of the election in keeping the schools open, the result of the election having left no question in regard to the needed funds. The Commissioners will increase the rate of the regular tax levy next April, in order to provide the sum required to support the schools for the remainder of the term. There is no question whatever in regard to the legality of the proceeding, and those who opposed the tax may as well gracefully submit to the inevitable.

The philanthropists dolefully ask: "Is the Indian doomed to die out and the race to become extinct? and nature seems to answer, yes." While it seems sad for a race of men to disappear from the earth, yet from a common sense view there seems to be little cause for regret. We must all die, and the only question is, shall future generations of the human race be mixed in color, intelligence, and habits, or shall the earth be monopolized by the higher orders.

DOES IT PAY?

There are a great many business men (or men in business) who say they cannot see that advertising does them any good. It may be that the man who has nothing to advertise or fails to display his goods to advantage, gets no return for his pains. But all experience shows that he who keeps the other end of his business in good shape invariably makes advertising pay. If he is dealing in goods that change style often, or keeps much of a variety, a line in the paper will arouse curiosity and bring customers who will buy things they would never have thought of if they had not seen them. If he does a steady business, a card running year after year is a sure sign of solidity and respectability. The cost is probably not one per cent of the capital used, and no doubt adds ten times its own amount to the profits. Bluff old Horace Greeley said: "Any man who will pay more for store rent than he does for advertising, is a fool." The examples of the truth of the saying could not be contained in a small book. But there is another side to it, one which is never urged by the GAZETTE, but which is, nevertheless, forcible. A good, live newspaper is an advantage to a town, and good, live newspapers cannot live on air. They cost money. The newspapers of Reno gave no signs of weakening after the great fire, but kept up their size and gave more reading matter than before, and by so doing helped the credit of Reno merchants immensely. Had they cut down in size and showed signs of fear of the future, Reno would not be what she is to-day. Newspapers have an individuality and make friends on their own account, and those friends are very likely to give their business, in a measure, to those who support it. People at a distance learn nearly all they know of a town through its papers, and the advertisers are most successful who manage to strike the reading community favorably. If every one who lives off Reno would do a little to support the press, we could give the public much better papers, and they would be of far more benefit to the town and county. Two, or even one good paper, that is prosperous and energetic, would be far better for all concerned than four or five half-starved ones.

THE MARCH ST. NICHOLAS.

The most striking thing in the March St. Nicholas is Mrs. Oliphant's admirable paper giving the touching story of "Lady Jane Grey" (to be followed in April by the companion article on "Mary, Queen of Scots"); an illustrated account of two sturdy Icelandic boys and their desperate "Encounter with a Polar Bear"; "Mary Jane Describes Herself," an illustrated autobiography of a Sunday-school scholar; a new scientific in-door amusement called "The Magic Dance"; an incident of Adeline Patti's childhood, when traveling in the United States, in 1854, with Ole Bull and Maurice Strakosch; and the four serials,—"The fourth installment of Rossiter Johnson's story of 'Phaeton Rogers,' in which is described that young inventor's disastrous 'horizontal balloon ascension'; Dr. Oswald's stirring 'Adventures in Nature's Wonderland'; Mrs. Clara Erskine Clement's second paper of 'Stories of Art and Artists,' with six pictures; and the anonymous 'Mystery in a Mansion: a Story of an S. S.' There are more than fifty illustrations, a page of music, and an Anglo-Chinese story for the boys and girls to interpret.

NO STATE AID TO SECTARIAN SCHOOLS.

It is reported in Carson that a bill is to be introduced in the Legislature to make Mt. St. Mary's Academy, in Reno, a branch of the State University, and that the appropriations be distributed equally between the institution at this place and that at Elko. We would suggest that Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, and the Reno public school also be included as branches; that is, if the Carsonites have no objection. —Journal.

Our esteemed morning contemporary seem to go sadly adrift on matters which involve some knowledge of law. It should know that an amendment to the Constitution of this State, ratified last November by the people at the polls, forbidding the use of public funds for sectarian purposes. Therefore any such bill as it refers to would be unconstitutional, and we think there is no member of the Legislature sufficiently ignorant to introduce a bill of that kind. Any doubts which our no-less-esteemed-but-erroneous contemporary may still entertain on this point, can be set at rest by a reference to a late proclamation of the Governor.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Homer Mining Index denies the GAZETTE's account of D. O. Mills' lemonade business in Sacramento in early days. The GAZETTE was correct, however, as every old acquaintance of Mills' well knows. The Index says: "He is a tailor by trade. He received his first start toward wealth by the death of a brother, who left him considerable money. D. O. then went into the business of buying gold at Columbia, Tuolumne county, and old-timers will remember how very careful he was that the scales should tip in his favor every time." We do not see that this conflicts with anything we have stated concerning him.

The late Thomas Carlyle had no patience with purposeless people. Once a young man told him, in answer to a question, that he hadn't made up his mind what he was studying for. Sternly the old Scotchman answered: "The man without a purpose is like a ship without a rudder; a waif, a nothing, a no man. Have a purpose, if it is only to kill and divide and sell oxen well, but have a purpose; and having it, throw your strength of mind and muscle into your work as God has given you."

According to the Boston Economist, the total production of gold in 1880 throughout the world amounted to $118,000,000 ($9,000,000 of which was produced in America); of silver, $94,000,000 (of which $76,000,000 was produced in America); total of both, $212,000,000. The largest production in any one year was in 1853—of gold, $236,000,000; silver, $49,000,000; total of both, $285,000,000. Since that year the annual product of gold has diminished one-half, and that of silver nearly doubled.

Capt. Ead's plan for a ship railway from ocean to ocean is not so much of a novelty after all. In Russia ships of sixty tons are carried overland between two sections of a canal, over a railroad which has been sixteen years in operation. Canal boats have also been carried over the Alleghany mountains on a railroad.

Says the Reno GAZETTE: "This, from a poem on 'the Suicide,' by Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, in The American, is a fine line: 'The river's deathly waves in murmurous silence flow.' " What kind of silence is that which murmurs?—Sacramento Bee.

The silence which sometimes follows the reading of one of the Bee's jokes is one kind.

It is rumored at Carson that a combination has been formed by the advocates of the Bonanza relief and the friends of the Reno Asylum, and that their combined strength is sufficient to insure the success of both measures. —Austin Reville.

There is no truth in the rumor. No such combination has been made.

It gives one some idea of the personal annoyance to which the President is subjected to read that all trains on the Lake Shore railroad will stop at Mentor while Garfield remains there.

The Rhode Island Assembly has passed a resolution to submit to the electors an amendment to the Constitution giving women the right to vote at school elections.

The engagement of Whitelaw Reid, editor of the N. Y. Tribune, to the daughter of D. O. Mills, is announced over the wires.

T. B. Aldrich is to succeed W. D. Howells as editor of the Atlantic, on the first of March.

Alice Oates is not dead. It was her sister who died.

Letters Sadly Delayed.

From the Minneapolis Tribune.

A distressing incident occurred in connection with the recent death of Mrs. George Hollister in Minneapolis. At the commencement of her last illness she informed her husband in Washington Territory, and wrote successive letters without reply, dying, at length, with the reluctant suspicion that he had abandoned her. The day after her death the husband's loving answers came all to hand in a bunch. They had been delayed and miscarried.

Photographing at Balls.

One of the pleasures recently added to those which any one enjoys who attends an English ball is that of having one's photograph taken. A temporary studio is fitted up in one of the parlors and any lady who wishes to have her picture taken in her ball dress can do so. The luxuriant light is used—the exposure is really shorter than in daylight—and, as two photographs can be taken in less than five minutes, the intervals between the dances are quite sufficient for the purpose.

FLITSAM AND J.TSAM.

Carlyle loved "a nasty old clay pipe." So do Tennyson, Huxley and most of those aesthetic fellows!

The Chinaman is coming into vogue as a lackey in some of the monster stores of Paris.

Two Senators and six Congressmen were found by the police in a gambling house raided at Washington last week.

The Parliament of Turkey, decreed by the Sultan five years ago, stands prorogued indefinitely. Gone to meet Mahomet in the seventh heaven.

California vine growers say that the wine produced in that State will ere long drive French wines out of the market in the Eastern States.

What strange vicissitudes jewels undergo. The famous pink pearls of Isabella are now to adorn the bride of Prince Rudolph of Austria.

A revelation of human misery—At the Mont de Piete (Paris pawnshop) is this notice: "Nothing can be lent on false teeth set in rubber."

The richest gold mine in New Mexico, now worth $3,000,000, was originally sold for $3 in silver, a little gold dust and an old revolver. But they don't all turn out so well.

A school for teaching chambermaids and other house servants has been established at Milan; so far it has worked very smoothly, and Milanese housekeepers have high hopes of the future.

A Paris manufacturer claims to have discovered a process for substituting the leaves of the eucalyptus tree, which in burning emit a delicious perfume, for tobacco leaves in making cigars.

The wife of William Bancroft, of Marysville, Ohio, obtained a divorce from him, on the ground of drunkenness and cruelty, and on the following day, won over by his promises of reform, she re-married him.

Pierre Lorillard, Jr. is to be married soon to Miss Caroline Hamilton. The expectant groom is very highly connected, being a son of the man that owns Parole.

"Why, I'm so glad you've come. Did you know that I've been worrying about you, John, all the evening?" "That's just what I married you for. It is pleasant to think that there is someone home worrying about you."

The Tombstone Epitaph modestly presents a new word for public appreciation. The word is "slanguage."

"The slanguage of our esteemed contemporary." Quite a terse and expressive way of putting things.

A citizen of Richmond, Va., being asked in London how his town had flourished since the fall of the Southern Confederacy, replied: "Oh, excellently well; we live on red herrings and glorious recollections!"

Frank Buckland, the English naturalist, who died recently, left his widow penniless and gave his $25,000 fish collection to England. If, as Ingersoll says, there isn't any, it is lucky for some people.

It is said that most of the new Senators who will take their seats in the next Congress are small men. One of them, Senator-elect Mahone, of Virginia, is 5 feet 1 inch high, and weighs ninety-eight pounds.

Mary Anderson is described as the best "Pauline" on the American stage, and it is said that her embraces, like her kisses, are more intoxicating to the audience than that of any other actress.

The famous iron crown of the Lombards, which was carried to Vienna by the Austrians in 1859 and afterwards surrendered to them, is jealously guarded in the cathedral at Monza. It was almost falling to pieces from age, but lately has been restored.

Things haven't improved much in the State of Connecticut since the good old Blue-laws days. In those times when a man wanted to kiss his wife on the Lord's day he used to take her behind the door to do it. Now when he goes behind the door for that purpose he takes some other man's wife.

Mr. Longfellow is too old and good a man to be misrepresented. Some of the papers have said that he once went into a kitchen and helped a lady to peel a pumpkin. The lady now comes forward and denies the story. Longfellow did not peel a pumpkin. It was a squash!

Two French savants have, for the last twelve months, been keeping nine pigs in a state of habitual drunkenness. Dr. Decaisne, writing on these intoxicated swine in the France, remarks that they are none the worse for their year's tipping, which may be regarded as satisfactory or the reverse, according to one's point of view.

The old people seem to be marrying very extensively this winter. The latest case is reported from Virginia, where Spencer Cochrane, aged 92, on the 24th inst., espoused Miss Bethany Hubbard, aged 40. The granddaughter and great-granddaughter of the groom "stood up" with the couple, and his son married them.

The divorce bill which has been introduced by the Italian government is a sweeping measure. One of its enactments is that the sentence of either party to hard labor is a valid cause for dissolution of marriage. One is not surprised to hear that the clerical party are getting up a strong opposition to the measure.

Note the injured innocence of the London Spectator in connection with England's treatment of Ireland: "If we are gentle, we are hated, and so is order; if we are severe, we are hated more, and so is morality; if we are cold y jist, we are hated worst of all, and so is the Christian law."

A Paris journal contains this advertisement: "Ancestors. M. T., artist painter, will paint at a moderate price a gallery of ancestors for any body who will give him a commission. Models of guaranteed authenticity. Discretion absolute. Address him at his studio, No. — rue de D—, from 1 till 5 P. M."

Deacon Richard Smith, from his standpoint of goodness, takes this despondent view of his own city: "Society in Cincinnati to-day is not what it was, five, ten, twenty, or thirty years ago. In all that time the standard of morals has been on the down grade, until now it is conceded that this is one of the worst, if not the worst city in the whole country in which to train a family."

The Oregon system of liquor licenses is being urged for trial in Boston. Under it the buyer, not the seller, is obliged to procure a license. Objections are made to the plan, on account of the great number of licenses that would have to be issued and looked after, while friends of the measure think it would debar form the saloons many chronic drinkers who have not the money and respectability requisite to secure a license.

A singular circumstance is reported from a hot, dry valley in New South Wales. Last year the drought there was of long duration, and the bees suffered much from it. This year the bees have made provision against a similar emergency. They have filled a large number of the external cells in each hive with pure water, instead of honey. It is thought that the instinct of the creatures leads them to anticipate a hot summer.

"Bob" Ingersoll has been paying his respects to Delaware, apropos of the recent proposition to indict him for blasphemy. He says that oysters were originally made with legs, and that Providence took them off knowing that the people of Delaware would starve to death before they would run to catch anything. In the more venerable version of the joke it was the clam which was deprived of its legs for the benefit of Rhode Island.

A company has been organized in Carson City, consisting of the Bay City Quartette, Flora Walsh and others, to be under the management of Dick Guberson. They contemplate visiting the towns of eastern Nevada.

On Wednesday last Julius Tomasin, while at work on his ranch at Timber Cove, up the Coast in Sonoma county, was accidentally knocked off the bluff skirting the ocean beach and fell a distance of 70 feet, but will recover.

Wm. Perrin, father of the little boy who was drowned in Miner Channel, Stockton, several weeks ago, by falling from a bridge on which the railing was gone, has brought suit against the city of Stockton for damages to the amount of $30,000.

At Leadville, Feb. 19, Constable R. E. Pippin drove through the streets in an intoxicated condition. He attempted to shoot a dog. The ball flew wide of its mark, and entered the window of the house of Julius Kolach. Mrs. Kolach was in the room, and the ball passed within three inches of the lady's head. Pippin was arrested.

Paul Boyton Probably Killed.

From the Philadelphia American.

Paul Boyton, the celebrated swimmer and inventor of the rubber life-preserving suit, is believed to have fallen a victim in the war between Peru and Chili. Last fall he entered into a contract with the Government of Peru to superintend a torpedo service, for which he received a munificent remuneration. Nothing has been heard from him since Christmas, although previous to that time he wrote weekly to an intimate friend in Philadelphia. In his last letter he enclosed his will, and stated that the enemy were advancing, and that he believed he would not survive the impending battle. The long silence has filled his friends with alarm. He is believed to have been killed.

Indian Relics.

The Eureka Leader says: Tom Sheridan, of Newark Valley, is somewhat of a paleontologist and relic hunter, and reports that he has discovered some interesting Indian relics in some ancient mound formations, in Newark. One of the most curious is a stone grist bowl which is round in form, and about two feet in diameter. It is cut out of hard volcanic rock, found in that section, and is ground down to a thickness of about one inch. It is evidently the work of some very clever artist of some prehistoric time, and Tom, as a stone mason, pronounces it a first-class job.

Falling Into Scalding Water.

Says the Nevada City Herald: "Al Hartman, son of David Hartman, last Saturday fell into a vat containing scalding hot water, while at work at Chas. Kent's slaughter-house. He was engaged in cleaning the sides of the vat, when he slipped and fell in. Every portion of his body, except his neck and head, was immersed in the water. Portions of the body and one of his arms were severely burnt. But for his quickness in jumping out he would probably have been nearly scalded to death."

District Court.

In the case of W. A. Wheat vs. Geo. R. Hutchinson, Defendant's motion to open judgment has been continued till Tuesday next.

The trial of John Benner is still going forward. Witnesses for the defense were being examined to-day.

TOM FITCH.

An Interesting Biographical Sketch of Major Mann's Old Partner at Washoe City.

The New York Tribune has the following account of Tom Fitch, from "Johnny Bouquet": "At the Metropolitan Hotel are Mr. and Mrs. Fitch, who have probably lived more in the United States than any of its known citizens; that is to say, they have lived in professional and social importance in more of the Territories than any couple I know. Tom Fitch is a native of New York City, and went to California in the steerage of a steamship about 1851. His wonderful powers of oratory and humor were the delight of the cabin passengers, looking down into the hold where he made speeches up to them, happy as a captain. He studied law with the greatest orator perhaps since Webster, General Edward D. Baker, who was killed at Ball's Bluff. Fitch married General Baker's ward, an accomplished woman, and the author of several plays and novels. He went to Nevada soon after the discovery of the Comstock lode, and grew up with the people, being, with the Hon. Wm. M. Stewart, the most distinguished lawyer at the bar. Although the Territory was Democratic and Fitch Republican, they sent him to Congress, and he was, I think, the last Territorial delegate of Nevada before it became a State, when Stewart was made Senator. Mr. Fitch then moved to Salt Lake City, and was the personal counsel of Brigham Young, and had all the important cases connected with the Mormon Church. After going to Europe he settled in California again, and then moved to Arizona Territory, where he again became the most distinguished lawyer, as he had been in Nevada and Utah. Mrs. Fitch told me that she had crossed the continent thirty six times by stage or railroad, besides going between New York and San Francisco by water, and she is still a young woman. Everywhere Mr. Fitch has been he has been prosperous, but has been beckoned to some other field by greater apparent prospects. He has recently settled in Minneapolis, Minnesota, where he has a leading opportunity and connections. He was no mean competitor of Bob Ingersoll on the religious question, and in Congress was considered the most electrical speaker. Mrs. Fitch says she enjoyed her residence at Prescott, Arizona, as much as anywhere; although the country is very hot the altitude relieved it, and such able and spirited men were coming into Arizona to prospect and practice law, or to seek opportunities, that the society, isolated as it was, had a high refinement."

The Church Entertainment.

The girls at Bishop Whitaker's school have a fine thing in preparation for the church entertainment on Tuesday evening next. It is "Mother Goose" in pantomime. The girls dress in character, and render their parts with admirable grace and precision. The music will be rendered by an invisible quartette. "Mother Goose" herself will introduce her numerous progeny. Tableaux will enliven and beautify certain portions of the pantomime. Nearly all the boarders of the school are brought into it. It is entirely new to Reno and will give unbounded satisfaction. The price of admission for adults will be but fifty cents, children twenty-five cents. Reserved seats can be obtained at the postoffice next Monday. No extra charge.

Mining Stocks.

Transactions were light in the Board this morning, with the exception of Bullion, of which 4,950 shares were sold, at from 95 cents to $1. Closing quotations of other stocks were: Ophir 4 1/4, Gould & Curry 2.95, Savage, 1.90, Con. Virginia 1.60, Potosi 2.00, Hale & Norcross 3.70, Point 1 1/4, Sierra Nevada, 6 1/2, Alta 2.15, N. Belle 12 1/4, Mono 1 1/4, Jupiter 1.10, Bodie 6 1/2.

The Post says Norcross, Savage and Curry stock is gradually passing into stronger hands and these mines promise to become the next field of enchantment in the Comstock market.

Here Next Week.

The Silver State thus speaks of Sullivan's Mirror of Ireland Company, who will be here next week: "The show last night revived the Irish heart and awakened the liveliest recollections of home scenes in the beautiful Isle, and those who witness Sullivan's panorama will not wonder at the imperishable love the Irishman has for his native land."

The thanks of this community are hereby tendered to the officers and members of the "Wadsworth Social Dance Club" for the munificent donation of $272, being the proceeds "after paying all other expenses" of their grand masque ball, given at this place on the 21st inst. for the benefit of the public school of this district. ## The Accident at Summit.

The delayed eastbound overland and lightning trains arrived yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Engineer Kelley was little hurt by the accident, escaping with a few slight cuts and the loss of a tooth. The cause of the accident was peculiar. A "flanger" got loose from a siding and ran down to the main track, stopping at the switch. When the overland came along it ran into the flanger, ditching engine No. 156. No one but the engineer was hurt.

Prospector Poe's Pleasing Prospects.

John Poe, the veteran prospector, is in Kern county, California, at his old occupation. He writes from Caliente to the GAZETTE that he has discovered a ledge five feet wide, and rich in gold; and that the mining chances there are good, little prospecting having been done. There is plenty of wood and water in the district, but little whiskey.

Cattle to be Shipped.

Bold Theft of a Valuable Horse.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.
Henry Ihne's $10,000 trotter, Mouse, was stolen from his stable in Brooklyn yesterday by two men, one of whom hoodwinked the stableman into showing the animal's good points and allowing him to mount it.

A stableman and Wm. Craig, a blacksmith, conspired to escape with Mouse, and Craig, pretending to try his speed, leaped on his back and disappeared around the corner, with his owner looking on.

The Kallach Murder Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25.
In the Kallach trial to-day but little new of interest was brought out. One witness, named Alvon, of Santa Cruz county, testified to seeing young Kallach approach the door of the Chronicle office in company with another man, who pointed out Charles De Young to Kallach. This was just before the shooting. A number of witnesses were examined as to the condition of De Young's pistol, which was found lying on the desk near which he fell, showing that it was cocked, but that none of the chambers had been discharged. Before adjournment this evening the prosecution intimated that if no lengthy cross-examination of their additional witnesses was indulged in by the defense, they might get through with their evidence to-morrow.

Fire at San Francisco—Man Burned to death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.
The hay and grain warehouse of Moore & McLaren was burned this morning; loss $30,000. Two employees slept in the establishment; one perished; the other was hardly injured.

Gone From Our Gaze.

Joe Price departed suddenly last night, for what objective point his creditors were left to guess. The principal claims against him were: C. A. Rowley, $250; Chris. Haller, $165; J. C. Hagerman, $70; Pechner, the tailor, $55; Abraham Bros. $15. Mr. Haller takes possession of the stock and the fixtures of the restaurant, and will sell them at auction next Monday between ten and two o'clock. Joe seemed to be doing a first-rate business, and his sudden disappearance puts him in the light of an absconding debtor.

She Jumped off the Train.

Miss Goodwin came up on the delayed overland train which arrived here yesterday afternoon. She was on her way home to Virginia City, and was on the train bidding good-bye to a lady going farther east, when it started out of the station. Miss Goodwin jumped from the train while it was in motion, and fell on the platform, striking her head a hard blow, but receiving no serious injury. She was at once carried into the Depot Hotel and her bruises attended to.

Attempted Suicide at Truckee.

The Republican says that on Thursday afternoon a man by the name of Frank Currier attempted to commit suicide by stabbing himself near the heart. ## Boca Beer.

Citizens' Meeting.

There will be a citizen's meeting in Justice Young's office this evening at 7:30, to decide upon what legislation is needed in regard to the State Fair proposition.

Death Overtakes the Noted Chinaman Whom the Putes Failed to Capture.

The dead body of Cue Long was found in a vacant Chinese house at Winnemucca the other day. The Silver State gives this account of him: "He was the only Chinaman who made his escape from the wholesale slaughter in 1865 on the Owyhee. It will be remembered that the Indians took in a band of some eighty celestials upon that occasion. Cue Long being very fleet of foot, took to the sage-brush and had a run for life for five miles on the open plains, pursued by a score of yelping Putes. As he reached the banks of the Owyhee, a stalwart buck overtook and seized him. In the desperate struggle which ensued, both were precipitated headlong down into the deep and swift current. The Indian disappeared, the Chinaman swam to the opposite shore and made good his escape to the "Sheep Ranch." Cue Long had royal blood in his veins, and was an athlete. He was the owner of this band, having brought them direct from Hong Kong to put in the gold mines of Idaho. After this misfortune Cue Long became addicted to the use of opium. He made his way to this place six years ago, and it seems for some reason lost his caste among his countrymen. He became a living skeleton, and finally passed in his checks."

Fell Among Thieves.

A miner was recently robbed by two tramps while journeying on foot from Gold Hill to Reno. He overtook the tramps on the road near Steamboat, and after drinking and lunching with them, stretched out on a grassy spot and went to sleep. When he woke the tramps were gone, also his watch, $35 in money and a meerschaum pipe.

Norman Stallions.

California sent to the Eastern States $1,000,000 worth of fresh fruit last year.

Sir Thomas and Lady (born Sharon) Heath had a rapturous reception in his ancestral halls, to which the people drew them, having taken the horses from the carriage.

The widow of President Polk, though over eighty, is bright, active, and tolerably strong. Her face retains traces of the beauty for which she was remarkable when mistress of the White House.

August Menzenheimer committed suicide in Louisville by freezing himself to death. Going under an open shed on a very cold night, he removed all his clothes, laid himself down on a board, and was dead when discovered.

A young lady of Indianapolis, Ind., caused the arrest of a young man for breach of promise. The young man thought he had compromised the suit by marrying the girl, but found he was not a free man until he had paid the costs.

Some Rhode Island militia, in camp last summer at Warrock, destroyed the nest, and eggs of a sitting hen. The owner had counted a great deal on the unhatched chickens and he has presented to the Legislature a claim for $600.

In the last twenty years the Comstock lode has yielded 6,500,000 tons of ore, which averaged $46 80 to the ton, making the total value of the ore extracted $323,671,605. Of this ore the gold formed 45 per cent. in value, and the silver 55 per cent.

Recent remarks by Carlyle, as reported by Dr. Cuyler: "I was like to see America. Ye may talk about your Democracy or any other 'cracy, or any kind of poetical rubbish, but the great secret of happiness in America is that ye have got a vast deal of land for a very few people."

Two Bridgeport boys opened a letter which they picked up in the street and found $800 worth of bonds in it, and returned it to the owner. He gave them forty-five cents, and said, when they grumbled at the minute reward, that they were lucky not to be arrested for opening the envelope.

Kentucky Petrifications.

From the Cincinnati Enquirer.

A cave south of Somerset, Ky., at Tateville, has been explored, and a petrified hog and man have been found. The man is in a perfect state of preservation, and, from the conformation of the head, is an Indian. The hog is entire, except the loss of a leg. The cave has not been fully explored, and will, in all probability, reveal other bodies in a state of petrification.

The Correct Thing.

From Quix.

It is considered ill-bred to leave your knife and fork crossed on your plate when finished eating. Few people are aware that prior to the Reformation in England, and still in some Roman Catholic countries, crossing the knife and fork at the conclusion of a meal was and is by way of grace, and considered the correct thing to do.

THE BOSS!

Edison Outdone.

Over 150,000 Sold.

Patented April 2, 1878, June 11, 1878, and July 8, 1879.

Boss Coffee, Tea Pots & Urns.

It is the Boss! Why? Because it produces Boss Coffee.

It makes rich flavored Coffee! Why? Because all the aroma and food are retained.

It beats them all! Why? Because it saves 100 percent over boiled Coffee, which is not Coffee, but bitter water. Second—Because it saves 50 per cent. over any other method of making Coffee. Third—Because it saves eggs and trouble of clarifying. Fourth—Because it makes Coffee as clear as rum or wine. Fifth—Because it takes only two minutes to make Boss Coffee.

The Boss works as well on Tea, and saves 25 to 50 per cent.

While Edison may furnish light to millions, the BOSS will assuredly give health to all who use it. Thousands have become dyspeptic and bilious from drinking boiled coffee or artem water. Boiled coffee is not coffee, but bitter water poisoned with coffee scum. Stop drinking boiled coffee. Make your coffee as pure and delicious, and restore your health. Many inventors have racked their brains to furnish the human family with a practical method of making coffee. At last the master inventor has been accomplished in the production of very cheap and simple Pots and Urns celebrated as the BOSS.

To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—After thoroughly testing the BOSS COFFEE POT, we, the undersigned, fully endorse the same as the best method of making Coffee we have ever seen. Besides saving eggs, it will save a large per cent. of the Coffee. It produces Coffee as clear as wine, which is much stronger, and has a more delicious flavor than any coffee made by any other process.
